AMUSEMENTS.

Polo at the Academy.

The Chicago and Indianapolis clubs met again last night and quit with the contest a tie. A great crowd was present and no such interst was ever manifested in a sport as polo attracts. The clubs play their last championship game to-night and they will fight in dead earnest to win.

THE PRINCESS.

This popular rink gains in favor each day and as this is to be music night it is presumed the resort will be a picture of brilliancy. The grand march is to be a feature.

"7-20-8."

The New York Herald says: "'7-20-8' or 'Casting a Boomerang,' has made a decided hit. From the rise of the curtain until its fall, there is a bustling, rapid succession of humorous incidents. The plot is just enough complicated to hold the attention of the audience without calling for any mental effort to follow it. It would be impossible in brief space to mention the myriad incidents of the piece. The audience was large, and the laughter elicited was literally incessant."

We shall to-night have an opportunity of witnessing this great comedy, which will be played at the Temple by a select company from Daly's theatre, and the management promises to spare no effort to make it one of the events of the season.

The senate met at noon and five minutes later went into executive session.

Congressman Byman disputed the right with him, sending in the name of Creelman. A bitter fight e sued. Postmaster General Vilas favored Creelman because he was named on his merits. The president evidently did not want to disappoint Mr. Hendricks, and sent in the name of his old friend, Aquilla Jones, sr.

A Fire in the Ohio Penitentiary.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

COLUMBUS, March 26.—Fire broke out early this morning in Monypenny's cooper shop of the Ohio penitentiary. The building and contents were entirely consumed. Loss on machinery and stock, $15,000. About two-thirds covered by insurance. Seven hundred and fifty thousand cigars, on which the state had an attachment of $7,000, were consumed. Insurance on the same $40,000. The loss on cigars is $20,000. The state will lose on the building about $10,000.

BUFFALO, March 25.—This evening as an attache of the Music hall was lighting the gas about the stage a drop fly took fire from a defective burner. In an instance the whole stage was in flames and six minutes later the entire building was burning. McCaull's Opera company were dressing preparatory to the production of "Falka," and had barely time to escape, some only partially dressed. The company lose their entire wardrobes for the operas of "Falka," "The Little Duke" and "The Queen's Lace Handkerchief," and the company had most of their trunks brought to the building and these were consumed also. Very few persons had arrived to witness the performance and all escaped without injury. An hour later the St. Louis Roman Catholic church at the rear of the Music hall took fire, and it was soon evident that the magnificent edifice was doomed. The street between the Music hall and the church is very narrow, rendering it impossible for the fire department to do effective work. George Smith and Joseph Green ascended ladders in front of the church for the purpose of assisting the firemen in directing their work. The building burned rapidly and the firemen and Smith hastily left the roof which they had reached, but for some reason Green remained and frantically rushed to the cupola, cli m ing it in full view of the thousands of spectators. He climbed to the lightning rod, but returned and rushed to the body of the roof which was now burning fiercely. He rushed to a corner of the building and heedless of the cries of the firemen, who had a tarpaulin stretched for him to jump into. He made for the tower and from it hung by his hands fully ten minutes. An attempt was made to reach him with a ladder, but it was unsuccessful, owing to the network of telegraph wires. At this time the entire front of the church was enveloped in flames. When the smoke cleared away, he was seen climbing to the edge of the roof. Then he lunged forward, let go his hold and fell on his head and was instantly killed.

At 8:30 o'clock the tower of the music hall fell in, and a few minutes later the front walls fell into the street. The south wall, which was unusually strongly built, as it was within ten feet of a large private dwelling, remains intact. The fire was finally confined to the music hall and church. The music hall was completed in 1883, having been about a year in the course of its construction. The St. Louis church was the oldest Roman Catholic church in the city.

A SIMILAR FIRE.

ST. LOUIS, March 25.—W. D. Haydock's carriage factory, a four story building at 110 to 116 St. Charles street, caught fire about 11:30 to-night and in less than a half an hour all the walls crumbled, and the entire structure fell to the ground. The loss and insurance have not yet been learned. One of the salvage corps named Walters and another fireman were severely injured by the falling walls. The old Congregational church, presided over for many years by Dr. Post, but now used for Sunday school purposes, located at the corner of Tenth and Locust, across the alley from the carriage factory also took fire and is now burning with a prospect of it being destroyed.

"Pound Maker," "Little Pine," Lucky Man," and other Indian chiefs are all at a distance of 250 miles from Riel's position, while "Big Bear," who has also been reported as joining in the trouble, is quietly hauling telegraph poles. Riel is said to have seized the whites and to be holding them captives in the Roman Catholic church. This is all the information in possession of the government. More mounted police are proceeding to the scene.

A MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE.

In these days of mysteries and disappearances, it is comforting to know bank cashiers are not the only fugitives. There are old tormentors who are not defaulters. Some of them stay much longer than they are wanted. In fact, they are not wanted at all; and the only gratification in connection with their history is when they get out and go away.

The experience of Mr. Isaiah T. Smith of Chicago, shows how an unwelcome intruder may sometimes take sudden leave and be very welcome in his going.

Mr. Smith is a resident of Waukegan, Ill., a few miles out of Chicago, and comes to town every day in the duty of his regular business, which is that of a miller and a dealer in flour. His face and form are regularly seen "on change," where he is well-known to the business men of the city.

Mr. Smith had an old tormentor. This tormentor has disappeared. The mystery of its disappearance is best told by Mr. Smith himself, in a conversation which he had with one of our editors who recently visited him. Mr. Smith is a cheery gentleman, of nearly three score and ten, and gave his account substantially as follows.

"For a good many years rheumatism had its hold on me. For five years I was continually a martyr to it. With every change of the weather I had severe attacks. These were chiefly in the chest, but sometimes in the arms. For a considerable while I could not dress myself. My shoulders gave me almost constant pain, so much so that I could not, with any degree of comfort, lean back against a chair, or against the wall. The pain interfered with my sleep. Sometimes at night a paroxysm would take me suddenly. There were times at which my pains were so great that I thought I could not live an hour.

"Friends and doctors prescribed and advised almost everything on earth. I tried a great many of the things recommended. I dieted; I gave up smoking; I took morphine, and many other medicines. Nothing gave me anything better than temporary relief, until I took Athlophoros. At the time I took this remedy, the rheumatism had attacked my stomach with neuralgic pains and cramps; so you see that my case was a very severe one.

"I took Athlophoros exactly as directed, only a double dose, for my pains were so very severe. Very soon the pains mysteriously disappeared. After a while they returned, coming at regular periods, and each time with less force. Then they went all away, and since that, I am happy to say, they have never come back again.

"I think my case a remarkable one. How Athlophoros acts I don't pretend to say; I only know it acted on me. I had rheumatism so badly that sometimes I would wake in the night and tell my wife I couldn't live till morning. Athlophoros cured me.

"Do you want to know about my daughter-in-law? Well she had "milk-arm." Her arm was swollen as large as two arms ought to be. When the swelling abated, she was taken with severe rheumatic pains. These pains took her in the wrist and shoulders principally. Athlophoros acted on her as promptly as it did on me. I kept on giving it to her as long as she had any suffering. She had suffered for weeks. This was last Fall, and since that she has had no pains, nor any inconvenience, except a slight stiffness in the wrist.

"Our milkman, Mr. G. W. Corkendall, had rheumatism so badly that he had to have his little girl go around in the wagon with him and deliver the milk. I gave him Athlophoros, and less than a bottle of it cured him so that he could go his rounds by himself.

"How many bottles did I take? Well, one bottle did most of the business for me, but I wanted to kill my old tormentor completely, and so I kept on till I had taken four bottles. Now I come to town every day in all weathers. No storm or cold makes any difference with me. I am free from rheumatism. If it were to attack me again I would take Athlophoros and be done with it."

Thus the mystery is explained. The disappearance was natural enough. The old tormentor, Rheumatism, is put to flight by Athlophoros, the popular remedy for which all the best druggists now find a large and increasing demand.

His cry of weariness is echoed by the other state officers, who are constantly importuned to exert their influence at Washington.

THE CORNER LOAFER.

Marshal Meyer's determination to arrest the idlers who loaf on street corners and in front of store buildings has caused comment in the circles named. One of these dudish fellows remarked yesterday: "The world owes me a living." We dispute the proposition. The world owes you nothing, you are the debtor so long as you have brains and ability to work. You owe society for the protection its laws afford you, and for the blessings which flow from social intercourse. You owe the contribution of your energies of mind and muscle. He that will not work should not eat. When by accident or disease you no longer have the power to work—to make your regular contribution to society's welfare—then, like a courageous valiant who has become disabled in the service of his country, you are entitled to care, assistance and support; not because the world owes it to you, but because it is your right. It is one of the natural rights of society as much as it is of the army, that when disabled in the service of that society, you should be cared for. But the drones in the human hive have not even this claim; and though often provided for the providence is unmerited

"WHAT is the population of the world, papa?" asked 6-year-old Edith, who was making up sums for herself on a new slate. "You must not interrupt me now, Edith," said her father, who was writing at the same table. "Go to Miss Smith," referring to the governess. Her father was not so busy, however, but that he heard and was amused by her saying, in a low tone, soon after: "I know how I can find out myself. I'll look in the back of the geography for the United States and for Europe, and then I can add Aunt Mary's baby and Aunt Jessie's baby, and that will give it to me exactly." —Ex.

IN one of the schools of this city a mischievous young American of African descent got into trouble. He had violated one of the rules, and his teacher concluded that his offense was grave enough to merit discipline at the hands of the principal. Taking a firm hold of the young gentleman, the teacher accordingly started for the room of the dread administrator of punishment. The young chap held back, began to cry, and finally cried out, in piteous tones, "Oh, Miss——, don't take me up stairs; p-l-e-a-s-e don't. If you don't take me up there, I'll pray for you to-night!" She didn't take him up.—Altoona Tribune.

Certain druggists begin to complain that the only cough remedy they can now sell is Dr. Wisar's Balsam of Wild Cherry. This goes to prove that intelligent people are determined to get the best cure for coughs, colds, and consumption, and will not take a substitute.

LONDON Knowledge sharply denounces the present falsifying of history, which is caused by England's continued sending forth stamps to the world on which a picture of a girl of 19 appears as the likeness of a lady who is a great-grandmother! "Do the officers who are responsible for this," asks our contemporary, "appeal to a supposed barmaid type of vanity in their sovereign by representing her of the same age as her own grandchildren?"

Biliousness

Is very prevalent at this season, the symptoms being bitter taste, offensive breath, coated tongue, sick headache, drowsiness, dizziness, loss of appetite. If this condition is allowed to continue, serious consequences may follow. By promptly taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a fever may be avoided or premature death prevented. It is a positive cure for biliousness. Sold by all druggists.

Light opera is to be the thing in New York next summer.

The use of Iodoform or mercurials in the treatment of catarrh—whether in the form of suppositories or ointments—should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of chronic and acute cases, where all other remedies have failed. A particle is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to use. Price fifty cents; of druggists.

Even artificial dandelions are produced nowadays.

Caution. If you ask your druggist for Pond's Extract and he tries to impose upon you by offering "something the same as Pond's Extract," do not believe him. There is nothing the same as Pond's Extract. It cannot be imitated, and any articles offered as such are only worthless counterfeits. Put no faith in any druggist trying to so deceive you. It is sold only in our own bottles, inclosed in buff wrappers with the words "Pond's Extract" blown in the glass, and is never sold in bulk.

A CHILD!

TALLSTOTON, GA., Sept. 12, 1884.—My little son, now seven years old, broke out when a babe three weeks with what the doctors called eczema, beginning on the head and gradually spreading over his whole body. He was treated for five years or more by various physicians without relief, and the little boy's health was completely broken down. About a year ago I was induced to use on him Swift's Specific, and two bottles cured him sound and well, and there has been no sign of a return of the disease.

Poisoned by a Nurse.

Some eight years ago I was inoculated with poison by a nurse who infected my babe with blood taint. The little child lingered along until it was about two years old, when its little life was yielded up to the fearful poison. For six long years I have suffered untold misery. I was covered with sores and ulcers from head to foot, and in my great extremity I prayed to die. No language can express my feelings of woe during these long six years. I had the best medical treatment. Several physicians successively treated me, but all to no purpose. The Mercury and Potash seemed to add fuel to the awful flame which was devouring me. About three months ago I was advised to try Swift's Specific. We did so, and I gain revive in my breast; but folk hope alas! alas! we had spent so much for medical treatment that we were too poor to buy. Oh! the agony of that moment! Health and happiness within your reach, but too poor to grasp it. I applied, however, to those who were willing and able to help me, and I have taken Swift's Specific, and am now sound and well once more. Swift's Specific is the best blood purifier in the world, and it is the greatest blessing of the age. MRS. T. W. LEE, Greenville, Ala.

SSS

A Druggist for 25 Years.

AUBURN, Ala., Sept. 8, 1884.—I am an old pharmacist, and have had to do largely with blood diseases for over twenty five years. I have dealt in all kinds of blood purifiers, and do not hesitate to say that Swift's Specific is the best and has given general satisfaction than any other I have ever handled. Last year a student came to my store emaciated and covered with sores. I recommended S. S. S. He took only three bottles, and the sores disappeared, his throat healed up, and his skin cleared off. His flesh was smooth and fresh as that of a child, and he has gained ten pounds. I scarcely knew him when he returned after an absence of several weeks. He claimed to be renewed in flesh and spirit. A number of other cases less malignant have come under my observation, and all with the best results. Swift's Specific is an excellent tonic, and as an antidote for malaria has no superior. Many ladies are using it as a tonic for general debility, and find it the most satisfactory one ever used. I have been dealing in Swift's Specific for five years or more, and am satisfied that I do not place too high an estimate upon its merit. G. W. DIXON.

Woman's Suffering and Relief.

Those languid, tiresome sensations, causing you to feel scarcely able to be on your feet; that constant drain that is taking from your system all its former elasticity; driving the bloom from your cheeks; that continual strain upon your vital forces, rendering you irritable and fretful, can easily be removed by the use of that marvelous remedy, Hop Bitters. Irregularities and obstructions of your system, are relieved at once while the special cause of perilous pain are permanently removed. None receive so much benefit, and none are so profoundly grateful, and show such an interest in recommending Hop Bitters as women.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

The New York board of health estimates that 30,000 lives have been destroyed by the explosive qualities of petroleum. If every household would adopt the White Seal oil for family use, none of these unfortunate accidents would occur.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

has none of the defects usually found in common oils. It cannot be exploded, does not char the wick, will not smoke, emits no offensive odor, and prevents the breaking of chimneys.

WHITE SEAL BURNING OIL

is a rich oil for illuminating purposes. It is as light in color as pure water. It gives a strong steady light, and burns much longer than common oils.

A Man With Six Wives.

A man with six wives is likely to go to jail for bigamy, which, after all, may not be much more disagreeable than trying to live with six women at a time. Either course is not more disagreeable than to be afflicted with dyspepsia and liver complaint. Frank Jones, of Cothrans, Texas, writes, "I am using Brown's Iron Bitters for dyspepsia and debility, and it has done me a great deal of benefit." Any other man may receive similar advantage. It also cures malaria, weakness, neuralgia, etc.

A PICTORIAL INTRODUCTION

To the Faces of Persons Whose Names Are Familiar.

GEORGE H. PENDLETON.

The important diplomatic station of Minister to Germany has been granted to "gentleman" George H. Pendleton, and at the age of 60, after 35 years of his life spent in politics, though not always successful, few men are better entitled than Mr. Pendleton to a reward from his party. It is claimed by his friends that his speech in the Senate on civil service reform is what compelled his opponents to adopt that measure, which proved afterwards to be one of the severest blows to them. Mr. Pendleton began public life in 1854 as a member of the state senate of Ohio. He represented Ohio in the national congress from 1857 to 1864, when he was the Democratic candidate for vice-president on the ticket headed by George B. McClellan; was a candidate for governor of Ohio in 1869, and in 1879 took his seat in the United States senate. In private life Mr. Pendleton is held in the highest esteem. His wife is a lady of rare accomplishments. She was the daughter of Francis Scott Key, the author of "The Star Spangled Banner," and a niece of the great chief justice of the United States supreme court, Roger P. Taney. Their home is at Cincinnati, where Mr. Pendleton was born and has since resided.

Simply a Sum in Addition.

[Milwaukee Sentinel.]

An anglers' journal is publishing a series of letters to prove that a brook trout weighing 24 pounds was caught in Maine in 1849. There is nothing very remarkable about it. As a trout generally increases in weight at the rate of one pound an hour after being taken from the water by an angler, the Maine fish of 1849 should now weigh about 200,000 pounds.

Minister to France.

ROBERT M'LANE.

Robert McLane, who has been appointed by the president minister to France, is by education a statesman and admirably fitted for a diplomatic station. His family, the McLanes of Maryland, are among the first families in an honorary way in the United States. Allen McLane was a distinguished revolutionary officer. His son Louis represented Maryland in congress for ten years prior to 1827, when he was chosen senator. He was minister to England under Gen. Jackson, and afterward secretary of state till June, 1834. Robert, the present leading representative of the family possesses in a marked degree the talents of his ancestors; he has taken an active part in the politics of his state, filling acceptably every position to which he has been chosen.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

JOSEPH S. MILLER.

Mr. J. S. Miller, the newly appointed commissioner of internal revenue, is a very popular man among those who know him best. The people of his state, of all parties, speak well of him. He was born in Cabell county, W. Va., about 37 years ago. He is descended from an old family of the Virginia valley, and his ancestors figured conspicuously in the revolution. Mr. Miller was educated at Beach Grove academy, Ashland, Ky. He is a lawyer by profession, but has always taken an active interest in politics, and when but 21 years of age was elected clerk of the circuit court of Cabell county. In 1872 he was elected secretary of the state senate, and in 1876 he was elected state auditor. In 1880 he was re-elected, and his last term expired on the day President Cleveland was inaugurated. He was prominently mentioned for governor last fall, but did not go before the convention.

More Than a Cyclone Can Stand.

[Norristown Herald.]

The Italians believe that maternity robs woman of her voice. The Italians should come to this country and listen to a rural mother call home her children, who are playing in a wood a mile distant. When a cyclone hears her voice shooting along, it knows it must either jump over it or get wrecked.

ANALYZING THE BAKING POWDERS.

"Royal" the Only Absolutely Pure Baking Powder Made---Action of the New York State Board of Health.

Under the direction of the New York state board of health, eighty-four different kinds of baking powders, embracing all the brands that could be found for sale in the state, were submitted to examination and analysis by Prof. C. F. Chandler, a member of the state board and president of the New York city board of health, assisted by Prof. Edward G. Love, the well-known late United States government chemist.

The official report shows that a large number of the powders examined were found to contain alum or lime; many of them to such an extent as to render them seriously objectionable for use in the preparation of human food.

Alum was found in twenty-nine samples. This drug is employed in baking powders to cheapen their cost. The presence of lime is attributed to the impure cream of tartar of commerce used in their manufacture. Such cream of tartar was also analyzed and found to contain lime and other impurities, in some samples to the extent of 23 per cent. of their entire weight.

All the baking powders of the market, with the single exception of "Royal" (not including the alum and phosphate powders, which were long since discarded as unsafe or inefficient by prudent housekeepers) are made from the impure cream of tartar of commerce and consequently contain lime to a corresponding extent.

The only baking powder yet found by chemical analysis to be entirely free from lime and absolutely pure is the "Royal." This perfect purity results from the exclusive use of cream of tartar specially refined and prepared by patent processes of the New York Tartar company., which totally removes the tartrate of lime and other impurities. The cost of this chemically pure cream of tartar is much greater than any other, and on account of this great cost is used in no baking powder but the "Royal"

Prof. Love, who made the analysis of baking powders for the New York State board of health, as well as for the government, says of the purity and wholesomeness of "Royal"

"I have tested a package of Royal Baking Powder which I purchased in the open market, and find it composed of pure and wholesome ingredients. It is a cream of tartar powder of a high degree of merit, and does not contain either alum or phosphates or any injurious substances.

"E. G. LOVE, Ph. D."

Helen Mather's last story is called "Found Out." It is supposed a tailor called at the house of the hero with a bill.

Sacred writ; ages of experience; the result of years of trial; the verdict of extended investigation; the evidence of the wisest physicians, and the united wisdom of ancient and modern times, in civilized and barbarian climes, all go to prove that God has sent the herbs of the field for medicine unto man. Mineral substances cannot be taken into the fluids and assimilated with the juices to carry off morbid humors, any more than a succulent vegitable can derive its sap from the polished surface of a marble slab. When this fact is understood, and also the physiological fact, that all diseases, whatever their character, are at first merely an secretion of poison in the fluids, it will be at once seen that to be efficacious, a remedy must search the very fountains from which the fluids come, and clean out the specific virus, which is, demon-like, concocting disease to vitiate and destroy the whole system.

This is the secret, and the man who having this view, prepares a medicine which will purify the blood and secretions, correct the organs, and having found the occult germs of disease, will accomplish more than the whole college of physicians with the whole pharmacopœia at their back. The question for consideration is, has this been done and, if so, what is the result? We unhesitatingly say yes, and Mishler's Herb Bitters is the medicine which answers all these ends. It is essentially a herbal preparation, made by a combination of those natural remedies which nature has spread abroad with such boundless profusion. From the cedron of Central America to the dandelion of our own fields, every plant has been tried and tasted, and the potent powers of all which could be unified and harmonized, have been used in preparing this most efficacious of all alterative and tonic remedies. It is no secret mess brought forward as a magic panacea, but a decoction of valuable herbs, every one having its name and description in the United States dispensatory, and all combined by digestion and filtration in purespirits, so classified as to rid it of woody fibre and all substances affecting its transparency, warranted to renew health, restore strength, and rid the system of all influences affecting the regularity of its operations.—Democrat, Davenport, Iowa.

New Bedford has a civil service law which applies to policemen.

A former invalid writes: "I was greatly reduced in health and strength, caused by bad blood. I had a dozen boils in different parts of my body, and suffered many aches and pains, while the least exertion gave me great fatigue. I took three bottles of Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla and am completely cured. At night I enjoy refreshing, dreamless slumber, and all day I feel energetic and strong.

PROF. SIMON NEWCOMB, in reviewing the performances of the "Georgia wonder girl," Miss Lulu Hurst, in the current number of the Science, says her success affords a striking example of the unreliability of human testimony respecting the phenomena of force and action. He points out that her manifestations were purely physical and the result of force, being exerted under favorable conditions. Though ordinary observers were mystified, yet the character of the performances, according to Prof. Nowcomb, was absurdly simple, and illustrates the credulity of believers in the movements of chairs, tables, and pianos without human agency.

O, my back! That lame back is caused by kidney disease. Stop it at once by Hunt's Kidney and Liver Remedy.

Good news ought to be told; and it is good news that Hunt's Remedy has cured the worst of kidney diseases, and can do it again.

Fine white lawn ties are used almost entirely by men with full dress.

Do you wish freedom from aches, pains, sores, etc? Then purify the blood and strengthen the urinary and digestive organs, and build up your broken down constitution by using Dr. Guysott's Yellow Dock and Sarsaparilla. It is gratifying to know that among intelligent communities this simple, harmless, yet effective remedy sells faster than the many bitters, iron medicines and pretended kidney cures, all of which rapidly weaken and ruin the stomach, liver, bowels and kidneys, by exciting these delicate organs to unnatural activity.

In the exhaustive discussion that the weather receives on every occasion, persons have been found who claim that the present winter has not been so severe as that of 1880-1. A comparison of the records preserved at the signal service office show conclusively that the winter of of 1884-5 has been the coldest in thirteen years, and doubtless in a good many more, but the records only cover this number. CHARLEY BUTLER AGAIN.

Dr. Fletcher Attributes Insanity to the Murderer Who Danced on the Scaffold at Columbia City.

Before the meeting of the Marion county Medical society Dr. W. B. Fletcher reported an interesting case of epilepsy and traumatic insanity. The patient in question was suffering from a fall in which the frontal bone was depressed. The depressed bone, an inch or more in diameter, was removed, the flaps removed and water dressing applied, resulting in immediate relief from pain and a speedy cure of the patient's insanity.

Speaking of the case psycologically, Dr. Fletcher said: "We see a man whose history prior to a fall was that of a sober, quiet, industrious man. This fall is followed by a change in his whole nature. He becomes an epileptic; his natural affections are perverted; he endeavors to kill himself and his friends, and yet has periods of perfect sanity through a period of six years. Finally he becomes almost demented and is sent to the hospital to prevent suicide or murder, rather than for cure. A simple surgical operation, lifting a little table of bone, and in forty-eight hours the patient goes forth a changed man. Had he committed murder during the period of his mental depression, he would have been sentenced to death by any honest jury. Precisely such an injury, except that there was a larger portion of the diseased bone involved, was that which sent Charley Butler, playing the accordion, dancing and singing comic songs, to the gallows in Columbia City, Whitley county, but a few months ago. Such cases frequently exist, and our laws should be so changed that a jury of experts decide this moral responsibility rather than the average jury."

A STAR BOARDER.

Who Never Missed a Meal Nor Never Paid a Cent.

The facts are these: For more than four years I have suffered with pains all over my body, which were at times almost unbearable and I did not care to live. I consulted Dr. Nicholls at the Robinson house, and he is the first man who told me my real trouble. He gave me two doses of medicine and in less than three hours, to my great horror, I passed a monster tapeworm, measuring forty-two feet in length. I saw it, head and all complete, with my own eyes. It has been living within me for the past four years, and, as the head of this testimonial states, has never missed a meal nor ever paid a cent. Thanking Dr. Nicholls for removing the terrible monster, I recommend him to all in any way afflicted. F. B. HUCKSON,

Fort Wayne, March 26, 1885.

Captain D'Isay Abroad.

We are in receipt of a copy of The National Real Estate Investor, a paper devoted exclusively to the real estate leaders, in which we find the following notice of Captain D'Isay: One of the leading spirits in the New Orleans convention was Captain Isaac D'Isay of Fort Wayne, Indiana, who was temporary secretary of the convention. He is well known in real estate circles, has had large experience in real estate, and has one the largest lists of property in all the country, of any dealer in the United States. It is such men as Captain D'Isay that give strength and confidence to investors, and every one in the convention will long remember his genial face and active work.

Master Mechanic Barnes, of the Wabash, has not gone on an inspection tour since the strike. He is devoting all his time at the shops here in getting out the engines undergoing repairs.

The Temperance Work.

Mr. Dunn has succeeded in enlisting quite an army of workers. The church last night was full to overflowing. Short speeches were made by several gentlemen, and all with good effect. Short speeches with song, makes a bright sparkling meeting. The leader closed the meeting with twenty minutes talk. Results—about fifty names to the roll. These meetings are growing in interest, will be continued indefinitely, and the whole public are invited to attend. Fort Wayne has more saloons and places of drinking than any city of its size in the United States. Just think of a city of 30,000 inhabitants and 315 places where liquor is sold. Every twenty men have to keep up a saloon.

Meeting With Success.

Dr. Nicholls is being visited by a host of patients at the Robinson house. Those who are in any way afflicted will do well to consult the doctor early, as his rooms are always crowded during the last days of his stay.
